Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Now we know the Ledger and Times pulling power is terrific, but we were surprised when we heard from Mrs. Ardell C. Knight of Boardman, Oregon, yesterday.

Mrs. Knight is one of our many readers and she writes in for some basket gourd seed.

Mrs. Knight is the sister of Mrs. Fred Cotham.

Says she hopes to get some dipper gourd seed also from somewhere. Her address is Box 127, Boardman, Oregon.

You should make it a point to go out and visit the new Lutheran chapel and student center.

Very modern and built along contemporary lines, the center is functional, and seems sufficient for the needs of the local congregation.

We are not supposed to envy folks, but we can't help but envy people who can sing real well.

We sing at church, but the only time we sound well is when there are enough folks to drown us out.

Fighting socialism is our pet project because in the first place it will not work and in the second place governments never take into consideration human nature.

Human nature was not considered in welfare programs instituted by the Federal government and today you can see the mess programs such as surplus food, aid to mothers of illegitimate children, unemployment insurance, etc., are in.

The Reader's Digest had a short quotation by C. Northote Parkinson of England, explaining why socialism in England is such a flop.

We print his remarks as follows.

C. Northote Parkinson of England, promulgator of Parkinson's Law ("Work expands to fill the time available for its completion"), recently commented on medical care in England:

"We found out that socialism medicine cost two or three times more than we thought it would — because people suddenly realized that they were paying for medical care whether they got it or not. So they decided that not to be sick was sinful and wasteful."

"Medical men found they no longer had time to make visits because of the crowds in their waiting rooms. Each person wound up getting three minutes of the doctor's time, but while they all were waiting their turn, something called 'cross infection' took place. You would give the mumps to somebody else, but that was fair enough because you got the measles in return."

"Before long, the number of people going sick soared to many times the normal rate. This was, in part at least, the result of cross infection, and because lots of people with dull jobs would sooner go sick than work. After all, a day off is a day off, isn't it?"

11 Die Today In Apartment House Blast

By IRWIN BLOOM

United Press International

MONTREAL, 37° — An explosion shattered a 20-unit apartment building today killing at least 11 persons and burying others alive under tons of smoking rubble.

Rescue workers dug frantically to reach screaming persons trapped beneath the debris. Volunteers carrying picks and shovels poured into the disaster area.

Officials said at least 37 other persons were injured in the blast that touched off fires in three adjacent apartment buildings.

Amidst the smoke and fire, police cars screamed through the suburban area carrying the injured to hospitals.

The fire sent scores of persons—mostly women and children—streaming into the frigid morning air in their nightgowns.

Officials could give no immediate count of the number of persons in the building, which is situated in the Montreal suburb of Ville La Salle. Many husbands had left for work and mothers were preparing their children for school when the explosion ripped through the complex at 8:15 a.m. EST, they said.

The explosion touched off a fire that spread to three other 20-unit structures in the apartment complex and did considerable damage.

Officials broadcast urgent appeals over Montreal radio stations asking for volunteers to help reach the trapped victims.

Officials said they heard screams from at least three persons and feared that more may have been trapped.

Approximately 300 rescue workers reached the scene within an hour after the explosion. Fifty of them were sailors from the HMCS Hochelaga naval base nearby.

Another accident occurred at Main and Fifth Streets when Thomas Betty Howell of Hopkinsville, driving a 1964 Chevrolet, stopped for the stop light and James Chybourn, Elvin of Murray, driving a 1963 DeSoto, failed to stop and hit the Howell car as reported by Patrolman Brent Manning of the Police Department.

Contract On TVA Tower Bid Is Let

A Peoria, Ill., firm is the apparent low bidder on a 250-foot communications tower for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers near Dover, Tenn.

Col. James B. Newman, Nashville District engineer, said Rohn Systems, Inc., submitted a bid of $7,142 for the radio tower planned near the Lock D on the Cumberland River. The government estimate for the construction was $7,000.

Bids were solicited from small business concerns only and were based on construction of the tower, including a concrete base and concrete anchor blocks. The work also calls for installation of a government-furnished antenna mast and 250 feet of coaxial cable.

The contract requires for the successful bidder to begin work promptly after receiving notice to proceed, with completion of the entire job within 90 days.

Snowstorm Pounds West, 60 mph Wind

By United Press International

A show storm powered by 60 mph winds pounded Nebraska and Iowa today. Flooding rivers forced families from their homes in northwestern Iowa.

The blinding snow reduced visibility to zero at Council Bluffs, Iowa, where police closed all highways.

Schools closed in eastern Nebraska, western Iowa and eastern South Dakota. Driving was hazardous on highways covered with snow and ice.

The band of snow extended from north-central Kansas through eastern Nebraska and across western Iowa into southern Minnesota.

By early morning up to 8 inches of snow had fallen over a wide area.

Beaumont Deluged

The snow was caused by a storm over the southern plains that deluged Beaumont, Tex., with nearly 5 inches of rain since Sunday.

Western Iowa was hit by a combination of flooding streams and a near-blizzard. More than 100 families fled their homes at Missouri Valley, Iowa, when the Boyer River burst its banks Sunday night.

The area hardest hit by the snow storm was from Council Bluffs and Omaha, Neb., northward through Sioux City, Iowa.

All Sioux City schools canceled classes today and up to 8 inches of snow fell in the area. The airport ceased operations and the city's public safety director urged motorists to leave their cars at home.

Radio Station Silenced

In Nebraska, radio station KLMZ at Lincoln was off the air during a power failure.

Drifts piled 2 feet deep and winds gusted to 45 miles an hour at Sioux City. Western Nebraska reported winds of 60 miles and winds hit 54 miles in South Dakota.

The Weather Bureau said the storm—the second in the Midwest in less than a week—may develop into "a dangerous and crippling storm during the next 36 hours."

The storm moved slowly toward the Mississippi Valley.

Thunderstorms, high winds, damaging hail and tornadoes raked the Southern Plains Sunday night. A twister destroyed a trailer truck and pulled down power lines west of McAlester, Okla., and another tornado hit near Stigler, Okla.

More Arctic Air

Winds up to 70 miles an hour whistled through Holmstead, Ia., during the night. Nearly 2 inches of rain fell at Baton Rouge, La. Charles, and Alexandria, La. in Louisiana.

Another siege of arctic air swept onto the Northern Plains, aimed for the snow storm region. Temperatures were near zero in Montana and the Dakotas.

It was 3 below at Glasgow, Mont., and 2 below at Williston, N.D., and Lewistown, N.D.

Jury Receives Case This Afternoon

A Circuit Court Jury today received the case of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hill vs. Dr. James C. Hart in which Mr. and Mrs. Hill are seeking alleged damages in the amount of $100,000 in the death of their daughter on November 16, 1963.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill have charged negligence on the part of Dr. Hart who performed a tonsillectomy and an adenoidectomy on the 10 year old child November 9, 1963.

Charles Williams of Paducah, lawyer for Mr. and Mrs. Hill and Wells Overbey, attorney for Dr. Hart, gave their summations of the case after noon today.

Attorney Overbey concluded his defense this morning.

This morning Dr. James C. Hart was placed on the stand by his attorney Wells Overbey.

Dr. Hart's testimony followed generally what had already been testified. He performed a normal tonsillectomy and adenoidectomy on Saturday, November 9 he said and discharged the girl on Sunday, November 10.

He was called on Wednesday night, November 13, he said and gave instructions as to how the bleeding should be stopped and then called back in thirty minutes and found the treatment was successful.

He said he talked with Mrs. Audrey Bell, R. N. who was at the home at the time, and she felt he should visit the girl. He said he visited her at her home on Wednesday night. On Thursday morning he called again and again gave instructions as to how to stop the bleeding. He called back thirty minutes later and found the treatment again successful.

He said he was called no more until the following Saturday at 4:30 and then by Dr. Clegg Austin. The child was undergoing emergency treatment at the time he was called, he said. He said he was not called from Thursday morning until Saturday afternoon.

He followed the accepted procedure for halting intermittent bleeding, he said. Continuous bleeding is treated in the same way, he said, except that sutures may be taken. He testified that the girl was in shock when he was called at 4:30 on Saturday evening. He administered treatment at 4:30 and this halted the slight bleeding then in progress. When he was called again on Saturday evening, he went to the hospital but the child was dead, he said.

He gave the cause of death as "respiratory obstruction." He said that the girl strangled following respiration. He said that had he been called during the time from Thursday morning until Saturday he might have instituted procedures which would have brought a different result.

Judge Osborne warned attorney Charles Williams and threatened to discharge the jury when Williams indicated that Dr. Hart was under obligation to remain at the hospital, Mrs. Raphael Jones, R. N. and Dr. C. C. Lowry also testified for Dr. Hart. Dr. Lowry said he was called on Saturday afternoon, but immediately called Dr. Hart because he was in town, available and fully competent.

Dr. Lowry said that the child was not in shock as far as he could determine, and that the procedure followed was correct.

The trial was adjourned at 11:30 this morning and reconvened at 1:00 p.m.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Monday, March 1, the 60th day of 1965, with 305 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

American astronaut Glenn Miller was born on this day in 1909.

On this day in history:

In 1781, the American colonies adopted the Articles of Confederation, paving the way for a federal union.

In 1872, a civil rights act provided for Negroes to serve on juries and guaranteed them equal rights in public places.

In 1902, all 95 persons aboard an American Airlines plane were killed when it crashed after taking off from New York City. In 1964, two years later to the day, 85 persons died in a plane crash in a Lake Tahoe storm. Also in 1964 on February 28th — leap year day — 81 persons aboard a British airliner were killed when the plane crashed into the Austrian Alps.

A thought for the day — Italian poet Dante once said: "There is no greater pain than to recall a happy time in wretchedness."

NEW YORK — Building contract awards last month declined 7 percent in dollar volume from the previous year, according to F. W. Dodge Co. But the statistical agency cited indications that the decline in new housing construction "which took place during most of the latter part of 1964 has been reversed."

NEW YORK — Eastern Air Lines said it has placed orders with Douglas Aircraft for 24 advanced-model DC9 short-to-medium range twinjet airliners. The order totals $84 million.

Haskins one night, then it's Steve Cunningham or Dwight Smith, who handles our scoring."

Baechtold said he still had not seen a scouting report on De Paul. "I'd say that we can stay with any team, though," he noted.

"We had a quick finish, Eddie Bodin and Bob Tolan held the scoring in the first part of the season when Lee Lemos had a sprained hand," Baechtold said. "When Lemos returned, we were back at full strength."

For Western, it will be the seventh time the school has competed in the NIT. Three of those times Oldham played on teams coached by R. W. Diddle. "I played on the team in my freshman, junior, and senior years at Western," Oldham said. "We finished third in my junior year but couldn't get past the quarterfinals the other two years."

Oldham, in his first year here as coach, indicated that he will go with the same lineup which features three sophomores, a junior and one senior.

"But it's a different story with Eastern," he said. "We're going to go with one soph, Doug Clemmons," Baechtold said.

Western lost Saturday night to Murray 103-91, the fifth loss in the last six games. The Hilltoppers ended the season with a 17-9 mark.

MSC Racers Clobber Western 103 To 91; McPherson Hits 34 Points

The Racers of Murray State had a good year this basketball season. They won over Western for the second time.

Staying well out in front after the second half of play, the Thoroughbreds went on to clobber the Hilltoppers 103 to 91.

It was a humiliating blow to Western which had already accepted an NIT bid. The apparently failed to give the Toppers the lift they needed to set Murray down.

The Western squad was able to get into the lead only one time Saturday night. Murray led the rest of the way, pushing throughout.

Holding a 32-49 lead, Murray moved out in front quickly in the second half with McPherson, Nanciu and Johnson more ho handed than ever and boosted their lead to 16 points.

Veteran John Nanciu turned in his usual outstanding performance for the Breds shredding the net for 27 points and pulling down 13 rebounds. Nanciu missed the only free throw of the night, making 7 out of 8. Murray got 17 of their 18 free throws for the game.

Stewart Johnson marked up 18 points for the home team and pulled 18 from the boards. The only other Racer in the double figure bracket was Goben with 10 points.

Clem Haskins, outstanding Western player, was held to only 14 points by Gene Pendleton, who also chumped in six points for the night. Haskins had been making a 24 points per game average. Pendleton held the big man down, until he fouled out late in the game. Haskins scored, more frequently after Pendleton was out of the game.

Western went into their only lead with 17 minutes in the first half, when the score was 9-7.

Murray ran up a 30-point margin in the second half, but Western stilled it down as the reserves getting 36 points.

Both teams got 48 rebounds. The Murray Frosh won over the Western Frosh 97-90 with Poole getting 36 points.

This factual comparison is presented for your consideration as the hour approaches when your Congressman and Senators will be asked to vote on a most vital issue: Whether to provide limited health care for all the elderly, or to provide more extensive care for people 65 and over, who need help in financing the expenses of hospital and medical care. Please read, then let your representatives in Washington know your views.

COMPARE

ELDERCARE

Herlong-Curtis ELDERCARE BILL (HR 3727)

What are the provisions?

ELDERCARE would provide for hospital and nursing home charges.

ELDERCARE would provide for drugs in and out of the hospital.

ELDERCARE would provide for Physicians' care.

ELDERCARE would provide for Surgical costs.

Who would be eligible?

Those over 65 who need care and cannot pay for it would be eligible. The lower the income, the more financial help an elderly person would receive. People over 65 would qualify before illness strikes—merely by submitting a simple statement of income—similar to that given by a person when opening a department store charge account. There would not be any "welfare" type investigation. ELDERCARE would assure the elderly person free choice of physician, hospital, and nursing home.

How would ELDERCARE be financed?

By federal and state funds through a program that already exists. ELDERCARE would not require a new payroll tax.

When seen in light of the above, Medicare is not an "end all," "do all," "be all." It would only provide for limited care, would be very costly to implement, and would be increasingly costly to maintain. We must not learn this the hard way!

THE PHYSICIANS OF KENTUCKY—THE PEOPLE WHO CARE FOR THE ELDERLY—ARE AMONG THE SUPPORTERS OF ELDERCARE. THEY BELIEVE THE DIGNITY AND RIGHTS OF ALL INDIVIDUALS ARE BEST SAFEGUARDED BY THE HERLONG-CURTIS ELDERCARE BILL (HR 3727).

Please write your Congressman and Senators TODAY. Ask them to vote for The Herlong-Curtis ELDERCARE Bill (HR 3727).

YOUR CONGRESSMAN IS (BY DISTRICT)

1. Frank A. Stubblefield 4. Frank L. Chelf

2. William H.atcher 5. Tim Lee Carter

3. Charles F. Farnley 6. John C. Watts

7. Carl D. Perkins

His Address: House Office Bldg., Washington, D. C.

YOUR SENATORS ARE

John Sherman Cooper

Thurston B. Morton

Their Address: Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D. C.

How would MEDICARE be financed?

MEDICARE is a tax plan and would require a new payroll tax. This would hit hardest those least able to pay. The $5,600 a year worker would pay as much tax as the $56,000 a year executive.

WHAT HAD HAPPENED Shawan McCord and Abner Parketts got to know each other during one of the many visits to the Brownsville hospital in 1960. Shawan had come from the hospital to the Union Army while Abner, a doctor, had been in the hospital. Shawan had been in the hospital for a long time, and Abner had been in the hospital for a long time. Shawan had been in the hospital for a long time, and Abner had been in the hospital for a long time. Shawan had been in the hospital for a long time, and Abner had been in the hospital for a long time.

CHAPTER 7
ABNER Parketts turned to the thirteen men. "Some of you circle around the camp and come in from the far side. We don't want the raiders to pull out before we're ready. Dale," he said to Varney, "you stay here with our horses. He was my boy they killed. There was rebellion in the old man's tone. "The more reason that you want them. Do as I say."

To Shawan McCord's surprise there was no further argument. He was learning that the Chetokas were a most disciplined people. They elected their leaders, then they obeyed them. Soundlessly one group slipped off into the trees. The rest waited, and the wait stretched endlessly. At last Parketts gave his whispered commands. Darkness had come and one by one men vanished like wraiths into it. Abner turned to Tom Dolan and McCord. "Stay behind me about thirty feet. And don't start shooting. You might hit one of our people." Then he too moved forward.

The raiders' fire had almost died out. The night was not quiet with the weight of an impending storm. Dolan and McCord walked softly, their rifles held at ready. It was now a familiar maneuver to McCord, and he wondered again about Dolan. What had been his part with the Union forces? He glanced sideways, but in the uncertain light it was impossible to read the older man's expression. From somewhere ahead, a whisper came. "The raiders are coming across the valley night," he was answered at once from a spot a hundred yards ahead of them. In surprise McCord raised his head. The sounds did not come from any birds. And suddenly they heard Abner's voice, shouting clearly. "Hello, the camp. You are surrounded. The first one who moves gets shot."

Dear Abby . . .

CASE OF WELCOME WALNUTS!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last Sunday my husband and I were out for the day, and when we returned we found a large sack of beautiful walnuts in our garage. A note was on the sack which read:

"Dear Ellie,
Sorry to have missed you. Hope to catch you next time we come through. Hope you enjoy the walnuts."

Geraldine and Butch.
Well, my name is Eleanor and I am also called "Ellie." But neither my husband nor I know any Geraldine and Butch. We wonder who these people are. Could they have left the nuts at the wrong house?

They are delicious and I am using them in cakes, cookies, brownies, etc. But I can't help but feel a little guilty if they weren't meant for us. If you print this, maybe the mystery can be solved. Thank you.

"Ellie" (Mrs. Russell Smith)
—Lompoc, California

DEAR ELLIE: Go easy on the walnuts. I have a feeling you aren't the only "Ellie" on the block. P.S. Will Geraldine and Butch please contact the Russell Smiths in Lompoc and crack this nutty case?

DEAR ABBY: Would it be wrong to see an old friend of mine once in a while? We lost contact with each other 14 years ago. He was 24 and I was 23, and we liked each other a lot, but circumstances interfered and we both married others. We accidentally ran into each other and he started calling me up. I think we still feel something for each other, but neither of us wants to hurt our families. Lately he has been parked outside of where I work, waiting to take me home. How can I break this off before it goes any farther? Or would it be wrong to see each other once in a while? I want to see him so much I am ashamed of myself.

DEAR ASHAMED: If you were sufficiently "ashamed of yourself," you wouldn't see the man or feel impelled to write me for advice. You have answered your own question. Now act on your own answer.

DEAR ABBY: Please answer this in your CONFIDENTIALS TO: I promised God at my last confession that I would write this. Is sleeping naked a mortal sin?

DEAR THIRTEEN: No.

Too many clothes and hair styles worn by high school youths have taken on a neuter look, and this is especially true when one approaches a teen-boy and his girlfriend from the back, observes Ron Postal, of the National Council of Men's Fashions. CONFIDENTIAL TO THE DAUGHTER OF HENRIETTA DAVIS, WHO HAS 14 SONS AND 1 DAUGHTER: Please write to this column and include your full name and address. In which CITY do you live at 365 Garden Street? Thank you.

To The Voters of the Hazel Magisterial District:

Permit me to take this opportunity to announce myself as a candidate for the office of Magistrate of the Hazel District. First, I would like to thank the people of this District for the large vote you have given me in past elections.

I have had more than six (6) years experience in maintaining and building roads in Calloway County. I have also had a great deal of experience working with the Fiscal Court. I have always been vitally interested in our schools. If elected YOUR Magistrate, I pledge to work for better roads for our school bus routes. I have always been greatly interested in OUR roads that go to the county churches. I pledge to you that I will be honest with our county money and see that it is spent in a fair and impartial manner.

I hope to contact each of you between now and the primary election, if I should fall, please accept this as a personal solicitation for your vote and influence.

Backstairs At The White House

By ALVIN SPIVAK

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House: Since the departure of Walter Jenkins last October, there has been no real chief of staff among President Johnson's White House aides. Bill D. Moyers technically was assigned to fill the Jenkins roll of No. 1 man in the staff hierarchy but the 30-year-old Texan has devoted himself more to legislative policy than administration.

Jack Valenti, Johnson's appointments secretary, also was considered among those in top stature. But his tasks as the President's ever-present shadow and right-hand man precluded much overseeing of anyone else.

The President, in announcing his staff lineup in mid-January, made a point of specifying that none of his aides outranked the other—that they were of equal status but with different assignments.

New Arrival
Johnson, who is known for wanting to run as much of the White House as he can by himself, has felt he needs no go-between in supervision of his staff.

It is too early to say whether this will change with the recent arrival of W. Marvin Watson as a special assistant to the President. But the 41-year-old former Democratic state chairman of Texas has within less than a month become the aide closest to Johnson.

He has shared Valenti's role as appointments secretary—also sharing Valenti's office next door to the President's. And he has taken over—at least for the time being—Valenti's function of being the first person to see the Chief Executive in the morning, bringing intelligence reports and other data to the presidential bedroom at about 7 a.m. (UPI).

Relinquishes Duties
Press Secretary George E. Reedy insists that Valenti still retains his title of appointments secretary. But it also has been apparent that he has relinquished many of the duties that go with that job to Watson, while devoting more attention to assisting with speeches and policy statements.

Watson, who since 1957 was executive assistant to the president of the Lone Star Steel Co. in Texas, was a tough man for Johnson to recruit. Watson liked his job, and liked his political post as state Democratic chairman. Furthermore, his wife did not want them to leave Texas.

But Johnson used his renowned persuasiveness, appealing to Watson on bases ranging from personal warmth to patriotism. Watson, who had taken time out from his job in September and October to serve as Johnson's right-hand man, agreed in January to do so permanently.
